I freely submit my creative work to JAC and understand/affirm that:

- JAC will never sell or profit from my creative work without my consent.
- The creative work I am submitting is my own original creation. As such, I own the copyright to this work and no one else may use it for financial gain without my permission, regardless of whether or not I have registered my copyright with the U.S. Copyright Office.
- If I expect to seek court enforcement of my copyright ownership, I understand that I should register my copyright with the U.S. Copyright Office.
- JAC hosts a website (www.thejusticeartscoalition.org) with information about arts in US prisons.
- My creative work will be visible to the public. Prison authorities and other people who go on JAC's website/social media can see my creative work.
- Artwork mailed to JAC will not be returned to me while I'm in prison. If I am able, I can mail my artwork to a friend or family member on the outside who can then email photos of it to JAC.
- JAC is not responsible for any misuse or appropriation of my work without my permission.
- If anyone/entity wishes to use my work, I can sell or license it to them based on terms I accept.
- JAC will not represent me to anyone seeking to use my work without my consent.
- I can submit artist statements and an autobiographical statement for JAC to share along with my creative work.
- I understand that I can choose to donate one or more pieces of artwork to JAC for them to sell for fundraising purposes. If I choose to do so, I will notify JAC of which piece(s) I would like to donate.
